Pageant of the Masters Opens 83rd Season

The Pageant of the Masters is arguably one of the most unique productions in the world. Audiences are amazed and enchanted by ninety minutes of tableaux vivants (“living pictures”), incredibly faithful creations of classical and contemporary works of art, with live people posing to look like their counterparts in the original pieces.

The Pageant takes place nightly at 8:30pm from Thursday, July 7 to Wednesday, August 31 in the beautiful Irvine Bowl on the grounds of Laguna’s Festival of the Arts. The theme this year is Partners, focusing on dynamic duos and collaborations from the art world, including compelling artists and patrons, notable artists and their models, and even iconic dance partners.

Dream of a Sunday Afternoon by Diego Rivera

Featuring live narration and original music performed live by the Pageant orchestra, this year’s theatrical event showcases memorable art made possible by partnerships. For her 21st pageant as director, Diane Challis Davy was inspired by a portrait of the Lavoisiers, an influential married couple doing scientific research in France during the 18th century, who fostered a partnership in both science and art.

Challis Davy also wanted to include a tribute to the masters of cinematic choreography and iconic dance partners, Gene Kelly and Fred Astaire, with Dance in the Movies as the subject for the finale of Act One.

Sheriff McDonnell on Straight Talk

Jim McDonnell
Los Angeles County Sheriff

Los Angeles County Sheriff Jim McDonnell was sworn in on December 1, 2014 as the 32nd Sheriff of Los Angeles County. He joins us to discuss the work of the Sheriff’s Department, the challenges facing it, and his goals for the future.

Sheriff McDonnell is a Boston native who grew up in a working class neighborhood a stone’s throw from Fenway Park. He came to Los Angeles over three decades ago with little more than a dream to be part of protecting and serving the public.

He was born to immigrant parents who instilled in him the values that have served as the guideposts throughout his life: hard work, integrity and treating all people with respect. He began his law enforcement career in 1981 as a twenty-two year old graduate from the Los Angeles Police Academy.

Sheriff McDonnell and his wife Kathy live in Long Beach. He has two daughters -- Kelly who is in law school and Megan pursuing a graduate degree in film school.

Sheriff McDonnell will be our guest on the Straight Talk Show airing the weeks of June 11 & June 18.

Our Thanks for 24 Years

As our 24th Anniversary Season draws to a close, I would like to thank you, as well as our sponsors and guests, for your support and involvement over these past two decades.

Our goal has always been to provide you with a link to our community leaders in politics, business and the arts — i.e. to stay connected. An informed electorate is critical to the successful functioning of a democracy.

There is an old adage that says each community ultimately gets the government it deserves. I truly believe that most of our viewers care about our city and want to help shape the public discourse.

We are grateful to our Quality Sponsors for providing the support necessary to bring Straight Talk to you each week. Their names and logos surround this column. We are proud of our sponsors and urge you to support them.

A special thank you to our Title Sponsors: The Port of Long Beach, SCAN Health Plan and the Press-Telegram for their major support.

Also, our deep appreciation to Charter Communications for their help in producing and airing Straight Talk. Special thanks to Charter Senior VP Del Heintz.

Also, to Charter Production Manager Anthony Lamonea, Director Ron Petke, make-up artist CJ Eastman, long-time crew members Dave Chapman and John Gean and the entire Charter team.

And thanks to Beach TV, LBTV, Los Alamitos TV and other stations for airing our show. Also to Advanced Media Productions at CSULB for providing the professional studio and staff support, including Vic Carpenter and Amara Trujillo.

Also, our appreciation to Straight Talk Magazine Assistant Editors Stephanie Robles and Meagan Meylor and to Seaside Printing.

Also, thanks to the more than 1400 guests who have taken the time to visit us on the show over the past 24 years. It is gratifying that our government officials and community leaders share our belief that accountability to the public is an important part of their responsibility.

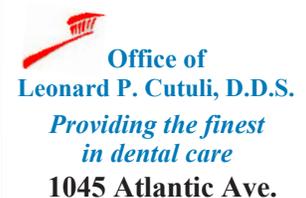

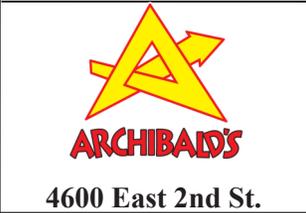

Most of all we thank you, our viewers, for your continued loyalty, constructive comments and encouragement over the years.

The 2016 Pageant will feature masterpieces from many nations, including France, Spain, Sweden, Italy and Mexico. Partners will illuminate the ways in which partnership can become an ideal subject for unforgettable artworks devoted to family, love and courtship, as well as historical, scientific and fictional journeys.

The Kiss on the Hand by Gerolamo Induno

With a wide breadth of artistic work to choose from, Challis Davy recognized the challenge she has already faced: "There are so many artworks inspired by partnerships, it's difficult to narrow them down."

Partners will offer a fun and surprising artistic experience in its gallery of masterpieces, from the warm familial scenes of Sweden's Carl Larsson to the surrealism of Frida Kahlo and Diego Rivera.

The Dancers by Harriet W. Frishmuth

This summer's production will present exciting stories, many appearing on the Pageant stage for the very first time. As a preview, Challis Davy said, "We're planning to incorporate video and live action sequences along with a behind-the-scenes look at how tableaux are created, and how volunteers are selected for the show."

Working closely with Challis Davy, longtime

Pageant scriptwriter Dan Duling was also excited about the theme, especially because volunteer enthusiasm at the Pageant is integral to the creative process. Challis Davy and her staff realize all too well that their 83 year old production wouldn't be possible without their amazing and loyal volunteers, many of whom travel from all over the Southland to participate and return year after year.

Backstage at the Pageant is truly unique. A perpetually festive atmosphere and a commitment to professionalism in every department result in a show that has been eliciting gasps of wonder and delight from audiences for decades. Challis Davy hopes that after visiting Partners, the audience will think about those who have inspired and encouraged them.

On the grounds next to the Pageant is the wonderful Festival of Arts, showcasing the finest artists, sculptors and craftsmen. This year they are celebrating their 84th Anniversary. Free admission is offered to the Festival all season long with your Pageant ticket stub.

A Raisin in the Sun Opens at LB Playhouse

The Long Beach Playhouse presents the family drama A Raisin in the Sun, opening Saturday, May 21 at the Mainstage Theatre.

A Raisin in the Sun is Lorraine Hansberry's classic American story about an African-American family living in Chicago's South Side. After the family patriarch dies, the poor family is faced with the decision of what to do with the soon-to-arrive insurance settlement.

Tensions rise as the future of the family rests on this important decision: Should the money be used to establish a liquor store as son Walter Lee plans, or should his mother's religious objections to alcohol be taken into consideration? Hoping to move out of poverty, the family must weigh the difficulties of the harsh and changing world in which they live.

As the first play written by an African-American woman to be produced on Broadway, A Raisin in the Sun is known for weaving together questions of race and politics, as well as assimilation and historical awareness. The Long Beach Playhouse hopes to continue this tradition of social awareness in its touching and wrenching production.

A Raisin in the Sun feels appropriate for a contemporary audience that is aware of the current racial tensions in the country. Director Phyllis Gitlin plans on examining the suppression that this family endured, and the realities that communities throughout America continue to endure.

A Raisin in the Sun opens on Saturday, May 21 with a Champagne Gala afterwards with the cast and crew. The show runs weekends through Saturday, June 18. The Honorary Producers of the show are Marlene Temple and Art Levine.

Dirty Rotten Scoundrels Coming to MTW

Broadway's scamming, scheming, double-crossing musical hit Dirty Rotten Scoundrels cons its way onto the Carpenter Center Stage via Musical Theatre West (MTW) opening Saturday, July 9.

From the composer/lyricist David Yazbek (The Full Monty) and a book by Jeffrey Lane comes this hilarious and clever musical farce based on the popular Steve Martin and Michael Caine film. Brilliantly crafted with wit, double-entendres, and show-stopping numbers, the Broadway show earned 11 Tony Award nominations, including "Best Musical," "Best Book," and "Best Score."

Dirty Rotten Scoundrels centers on two con men living on the French Riviera: the suave and sophisticated Lawrence Jameson who makes his lavish living by talking rich ladies out of their money, and Freddy Benson, a small-time crook, who swindles women by wakening their compassion with fabricated stories about his grandmother's failing health. After meeting on a train, they unsuccessfully attempt to work together only to find that this small French town isn't big enough for the two of them.

So they make a bet. The first one to swindle $50,000 from a young heiress triumphs and the other must leave town. What follows are a series of hilarious schemes, masquerades and double-crosses that will keep you laughing, humming and guessing to the end!

Dirty Rotten Scoundrels opened on Broadway in March 2005 to rave reviews. Clive Barnes (New York Post) raved, "A knockout punch to Broadway's funnybone! One of the liveliest, funniest, best-performed musicals in years. Super-smart and superior in every way." And Terry Teachout (The Wall Street Journal) proclaimed, "I know funny when I see it, and this show is a perfect hoot! A big hit."

Musical Theatre West's production of Dirty Rotten Scoundrels is directed and choreographed by Billy Sprague, Jr. with musical direction by John Glaudini.

Dirty Rotten Scoundrels runs weekends July 8 through July 24. For tickets or further information, call (562) 856-1999 or visit www.musical.org.

Vanya to Open at ICT

International City Theatre continues its 31st Season with a production of the Tony Award-winning comedy Vanya and Sonia and Masha and Spike opening Friday, June 10.

Written by Christopher Durang, Vanya is one of the most lauded Broadway plays of recent years. The story revolves around middle-aged siblings Vanya and Sonia, who live a melancholic existence on their family farm in Bucks County, Pennsylvania. Housecleaner Cassandra, whose comedic prophecies keep them befuddled, provides the only break from monotony.

However, their angst ridden lives are shaken when their glamorous movie-star sister, Masha, makes a surprise visit along with her hunky 20-something boy toy Spike. This hilarious mash-up of Chekhov characters and smartphones is a delightful new comedy for the hyperconnected era.

Known for works of outrageous and often absurd comedy, Durang has received numerous awards for his plays, including the 2013 Tony Award for Vanya for Best Play.

Also, Obie Awards for Sister Mary Ignatius, The Marriage of Bette and Boo and Betty's Summer Vacation. His plays have been performed nationwide, on Broadway and off-Broadway.

ICT's four-week production of Vanya will be directed by Mary Jo DuPrey and produced by caryn desai.

"For ITC, this will be the year of the wordsmith," desai explained. "We want to celebrate our great, contemporary, living writers. As they have matured, we have benefitted from a wealth of theatrical experiences." ICT continues to celebrate Durang and his uproarious comedy in this year's production.

Vanya runs June 10 through Sunday, July 3. The show plays Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays at 8pm and Sundays at 2pm. Two preview performances on Wednesday, June 8 and Thursday, June 9 at 8pm.

For tickets or more information, call (562) 436-4610 or visit www.InternationalCityTheatre.org.

Sponsor Spotlight: Rossmoor Pastries-28 Years of Family and Tradition

My partner Janice and I would like to share with our dear friends and customers that we have sold our business, Rossmoor Pastries, after 28 years. We built the bakery from a 3,000 square foot store and six people in the original Rossmoor Center to the bakery you see today.

It is very important to us that the business continues to thrive and that employees remain employed. To that end we have decided to sell to another family, Ron and Shirley Kleijn, who have moved here from Vancouver, Canada to take over the business.

Ron and Shirley want to continue to build upon our incredible staff, customer base and supplier relations currently enjoyed by Rossmoor. We will continue to support them through the transition. We are confident that by handing them the "keys," Rossmoor is continuing in the right hands. We hope you will welcome and support the Kleijns.

We want to warmly thank you for all these years of supporting our bakery and allowing us to be part of your family events. We like to look back upon the history of the bakery and remember the wedding cakes, then all the baby shower cakes, then years of birthday cakes, and then doing the wedding cakes for the grown-up children.

Family and Tradition backed by Quality and Service has always been our guiding principle.

Thank you, Thank you for all these years.

City Prosecutor Doug Haubert

A nationally-recognized civil rights and human relations agency, the Anti-Defamation League (ADL), recently recognized two Long Beach police officers and two Long Beach City Prosecutor employees for their roles in the investigation and prosecution of a high-profile human trafficking crime that involved a number of acts by the trafficker who would yell racial epithets at a woman he forced into prostitution when she did not earn her daily quota.

This case is believed to be the first human trafficking charges filed with hate crime allegations in California. All members of the team were presented with the Helene and Joseph Sherwood Prize, a prestigious award given to law enforcement partners for combating hatred and protecting the community.

City Auditor Laura Doud

The Association of Local Government Auditor's (ALGA) recently announced that the Long Beach City Auditor's Office won the prestigious 2015 Distinguished Knighton Award for the Police & Fire Public Safety Dispatcher Overtime Audit. Judges determined the Office's report was among the best of 2015. The award will be presented to Laura Doud on May 23, 2016.

In May 2015, the Office issued the Police & Fire Public Safety Dispatcher Overtime Audit. Serving a population of over 470,000, the Long Beach Police and Fire Dispatch Centers play a critical role in ensuring public safety for California's seventh largest city by fielding over one million calls each year. The audit found that the two Dispatch Centers answered emergency calls well within industry standard. However, after reviewing internal controls associated with work scheduling and utilizing a best practice staffing model, the audit found that low staffing levels and past recruitment practices required emergency dispatchers to work extensive overtime. In 2014 overtime hours cost more than $1.3 million and comprised 22% of all dispatcher work hours, creating a potential unsafe work environment.

The audit recommended that the Police and Fire Departments review more closely their current staffing levels and schedules, the disproportionate distribution of overtime among the dispatcher workforce, as well as their recruitment efforts.

International City Theatre

Out of hundreds of theatres, the Los Angeles Drama Critics Circle has recognized International City Theatre with the Polly Warfield Award for Outstanding Season 2015. This award reflects ICT's continued commitment to bring the best in live theatre to this region.

As Artistic Director/Producer, caryn desai accepted the award at the Moss Theater in Santa Monica, she acknowledged the work of many artists and her exceptional Board of Directors and staff. She told the hundreds of actors, directors and producers in attendance, "We have a chance to make a difference and let us not forget how important the work is in bringing our diverse communities together for a better understanding of our shared humanity. Thank you all for your commitment to keeping the flame alive in spite of never having enough support. It is never easy but it is always important."

The Los Angeles Drama Critics Circle was founded in 1969. It is dedicated to excellence in theatrical criticism and to the encouragement of theatre in the Greater Los Angeles area.

It's Time to Invest Again in Long Beach by Mayor Robert Garcia

I ran for Mayor – and, before that, for Councilmember – for one reason: to make the City of Long Beach a better place. I've always said that safe and clean streets, fiscal responsibility, and improved quality of life for residents are my top priorities – and that has not changed.

That's why I, along with my two immediate predecessors, former Mayors Bob Foster and Beverly O'Neill, have proposed a temporary sales tax increase of one-cent to be approved by Long Beach voters. Our police officers and fire fighters support the measure. The Council unanimously approved the proposal to place this on the ballot, and voters will decide whether to approve it in June.

Over the past several years, the City cut spending by $134 million and eliminated more than 700 positions, including more than 200 in the Police Department and 80 in the Fire Department, to balance our budget. We achieved historic pension reform that will save $250 million over a decade, and requires employees to pay their full share for their pensions. These and other budget reforms balanced our budget, kept essential services in place, and put our city in a strong fiscal position, despite the recession and the collapsing price of oil.

While we have managed our finances and balanced our budget, our City needs new revenue to be the city we want it to be and meet the challenges we face.

In December, we learned that Long Beach has more than $2.8 billion in unmet infrastructure needs – and that cost goes up with every day we wait to fix our streets, sidewalks and alleys.

As violent and property crime rates increase across California, many of our local neighborhoods are also seeing increases in crime. To combat these trends, I've proposed restoring South Division to our police department, which was folded into West Division to save money. We are also increasing the size and number of police academies to maintain our police force as current officers retire.

Our Fire Department also needs restorations to maintain emergency response times. Budget shortfalls removed five fire engines and one fire truck from service since 2007, which has created challenges to respond during peak demand. I have proposed restoring the engine in Station 8 – it is our chief's top priority and because it will improve response times across our entire city.

These two challenges – fixing our streets and public infrastructure, and restoring our public safety services – will define our city in the coming years. If we rise to meet them, we will be able to thrive. If not, we risk our streets falling into disrepair, and we will continue to worry about how to continue to keep our city and its residents safe.

The proposed one-cent sales tax increase, which would decrease to a half-a-cent after six years and then end completely four years later, would generate approximately $384 million over a decade – not enough to meet all our needs, but a significant boost for our infrastructure and public safety efforts.

Note that a sales tax is not levied on essential items like groceries, medicine, gas, or utilities. And it would be shared by anyone shopping in Long Beach, not just residents.

The City of Long Beach hasn't added a new general revenue measure in two generations. I think it is time to invest again in our city to make it the best it can be.

While I think it is time bring in more revenue, I'm also committed to our city's fiscal health. To ensure that new revenue goes to infrastructure and public safety, a Citizens' Oversight Committee will be formed to oversee revenue expenditures and to make sure they are used in accordance with the ballot measure. And, in order to support the long term health of our budget, the first one-percent of any new revenue would go to a "Rainy Day" budget stabilization fund to protect vital services from cuts in future recessions.

Long Beach has come so far in the last several years, with increased family incomes, new modern housing and innovative businesses moving in, improved air quality, and positive growth in our local economy. But we still can do more. To become the city we know we can be, and to attract new investment, get crime going down again, and keep our streets and sidewalks in top shape, we need to invest in our city.

I hope that you will join me in Voting Yes on Measures A&B this June so we can make the investments our city deserves.

Mayor Garcia will be our guest on the Straight Talk Show airing the weeks of April 30 & May 7.
